

Physics Alum Covering "Inquiries of Heaven"

Physics Graduate James Wicker (Ph.D., 2006) is spending two weeks on the newspaper staff for the International Astronomical Union's General Assembly in Beijing, this year called "Inquiries of Heaven." Held every three years, it's the largest meeting of astronomers worldwide, and Wicker, whose regular job is working as an editor for the journal Research in Astronomy and Astrophysics (<http://www.raa-journal.org>), will be covering the action. You can follow the news at <http://www.astronomy2012.org/dct/page/65700> (<http://www.astronomy2012.org/dct/page/65700>).